ALTAVISTA HIGH SCHOOL

As we pass through these doors each day, our store of memories at A.H.S. becomes richer and richer. Our high school yearbook is the story of the school year, capturing some of the atmosphere and spirit of the school.

As the years pass, the yearbook becomes a cherished treasure, frequently used to recall some of the fun and happiness of school days. As we look through the annual, memories come floating back . . . not only memories which have been recorded here, but also those which we could never recapture with a camera. We will remember the friendly bustle of students hurrying to the next class and stopping to speak to friends; the long line forming in the cafeteria and everyone having plenty of time to discuss the latest events; the cheering and the excitement as our team scores; and the encouraging counsel of teachers helping us with our work on their own time.

And now, to you, we extend a special invitation to travel "AROUND ALTAVISTA HIGH SCHOOL IN ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY DAYS" through the eyes of the "Colonel."

one who has accepted also the added burden of annual advisor.

With pride and gratitude, we dedicate The 1965
Nuntius to Rev. Earl Martin, a man who maintains an attitude of dignity and reserve at all times.

Mr. Cline Provides Able Leadership

The 1964-65 session of Altavista High School began the year with an enrollment of 510 pupils, the largest in the history of the school. There were 83 seniors. Prior to this session the largest senior class was in 1960-61 when 65 were graduated. The 47 pupils who enrolled from the New London School and the increased number in the 12th grade accounted for the increased enrollment.

The faculty and pupils looked forward to a good session because of the attitude of the student body and strong student leadership. The school had a good faculty and a large portion of the senior class qualified for college recommendation.

The continuing problem and duty of the school is to train new groups of pupils each year to take the places vacated by the classes above and to try to do it better than previously.

Duties of a principal include lining up programs for the teachers' meeting. Here Mr. Cline listens to Mr. S. Thomas Cox explain his talk.

Mr. Cline watches intently at a crucial point in the football game with William Campbell.

From his desk, Mr. Cline provides us with many interesting statistics about Altavista High School and starts us on our tour.

At her desk, Mrs. Hunley begins the morning chores, surrounded by her loyal group of helpers: (L-R) C. Dalton, R. Cox, J. Noel, L. Pribble, and L. Mattox.

Office Staff Serves as Guardian Angel of A.H.S.

Here we have caught Mrs. Hunley at the end of the day while she stores records in the vault.

Carolyn Dalton gives the announcements to Mrs. Spradlin during first period. This is only one of the many services provided by a capable and efficient office staff. They keep the school running smoothly.

Mr. Cline dictates one of many daily letters to Mrs. Hunley as the hectic school day begins.

Distributive Education Emphasized by Business Classes

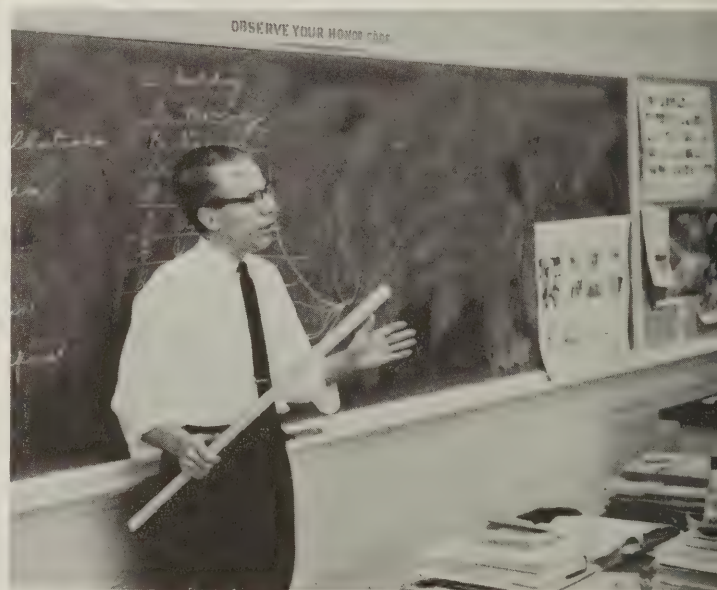

Two new teachers, Mrs. Drumheller and Mr. Flora, joined our business education staff this year. They provide, along with Miss Wallace and Mr. Dodson, capable training for those students interested in careers or further education in the economic field. The emphasis during American Education Week was placed on Distributive Education training.

Mr. Flora explains the proper technique use in across-the-counter sales to his D.E. class.

Miss Wallace looks exultant. "My first year typing class has just finished learning their keyboard" she says.

"Do you understand that point?" Mr. Dodson asks as he explains supply and demand laws to his economics class.

Mrs. Drumheller checks the dictation taken by her shorthand class during her study hall.

AHS Graduate Teaches With Her Former Instructors

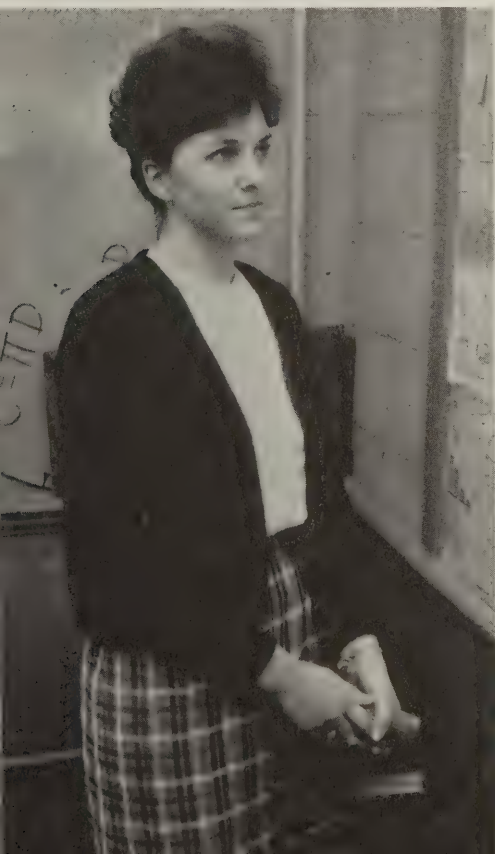

The Mathematics Department of Altavista has introduced accelerated courses in the last two years, due to a new series of text books. Though the strain of getting used to a new system has been hard on both the students and teachers, they've borne up with flying colors. In the scene pictured here, we've caught our three teachers in some of the routines in putting one of the three R's across. Mrs. Carper and Mrs. Moorman taught Miss Newman math during her high school years. Miss Newman is a recent A.H.S. graduate and it is her first year of teaching.

Mrs. Carper checks her mailbox first thing in the morning before going to her classroom.

Miss Newman queries, "Come on now! Can't you do better than that?" Below she checks a bulletin board.

At her desk, Mrs. Moorman stacks the homework papers she has just collected from her advanced math class.

English Department Stresses Creativity

Mrs. Martin and Miss Akers inspect a Shakespearean theater made by some former Senior English students. English Literature is stressed in English 12.

Mrs. Spradlin records the grades of her Remedial Reading class after a test.

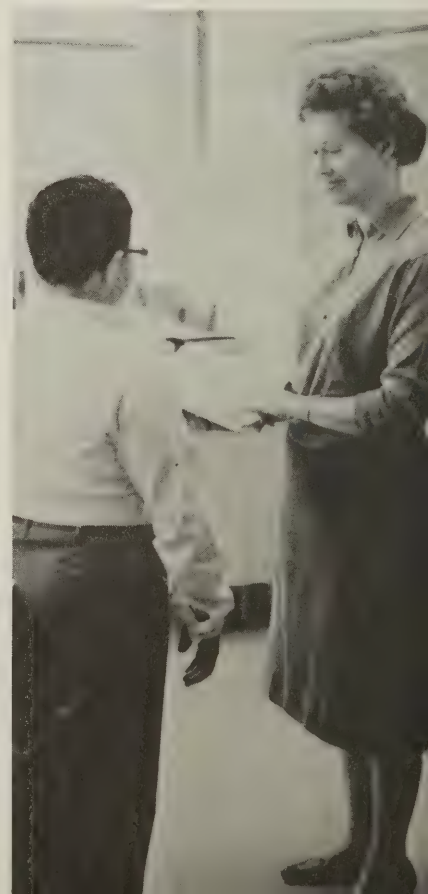

Mrs. Rountrey discovers a poem and her Creative Writing students crowd 'round as she reads.

Mr. Martin discusses the first chapter of The Scarlet Letter with his Junior English class.

Mrs. Hicks welcomes an eighth grader to her English class, and presents him with his first high school text book.

Home Economics Dept.

Home Economics is said to be the most rapidly expanding vocation in our changing times. At every turn a new horizon for job opportunities emerges and another type of learning must be added to the already full Home Economics course. Still of prime importance, however, is the time honored art of cookery. At left, Mrs. Stott samples a loaf of bread baked by her older students and appears to approve wholeheartedly.

One way the Altavista Home Economics department keeps pace with the rapidly developing program is by trying new materials. These drapes were made by the Home Economics Classes, and here are being hung by Mrs. Cocke and Mrs. Stott.

Girls Are Prepared for Future Homemaking Responsibility in Home Economics Class

Mrs. Cocke gets her eighth grade students off on the right foot by having them enter foods they made in the Annual Lynchburg Farm Show. Many of the Altavista girls were awarded ribbons for their efforts.

Juniors Tour Colonial Williamsburg

As part of the emphasis placed on our Virginia Heritage during this Civil War Centennial, the Juniors, under the guidance of Mrs. Wallace Andrew and Mr. Ronnie Cox, shown here boarding the bus at 5:00 a.m., toured Williamsburg and Jamestown to see the places where Virginia's ideals of freedom began.

Mrs. Nancy Hicks illustrates the growth of the United States to her eighth grade History class, by use of this map.

Mr. Hugh Dodson cheerfully answers a question posed by one of his eighth grade Social Studies students.

There's another face of coaches—the academic one. Mr. Drumheller and Mr. Thompson here illustrate it as they view the globe which they share in the teaching of World History and Geography.

All three coaches get out the pump to add air to the new balls. With the new emphasis on Physical Fitness, much needed aids to the Athletic Program have been added. The Varsity Boys' Basketball team boasts new home uniforms this year.

Mrs. Julianna Lane demonstrates the techniques of Speedball to one of her Sophomore Physical Education classes on the school's improved athletic field.

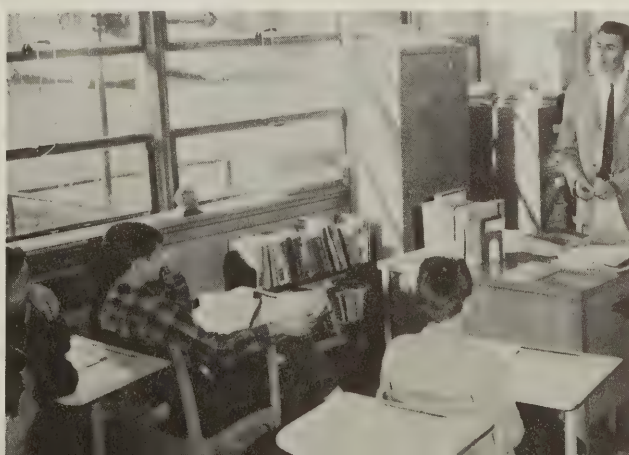

Physical Education Department Gains New Equipment

Mrs. Lane gazes up at the new scoreboard given the school by the P.T.A.

Mr. Thompson illustrates a point in class with one of his funny stories, much to the delight of these Freshman students.

Miss Phillips, by means of a "Visible Man," explains the composition of the human body.

Mrs. Key has the grades but she won't tell, despite student pleas.

Introductory Course in Chemistry Taught to Underclassmen

A chemistry experiment is helped along by Mrs. Key as she illustrates water of dehydration.

Mrs. Stott starts her eighth graders out on the right foot by demonstrating weather principles, during an experimentation period.

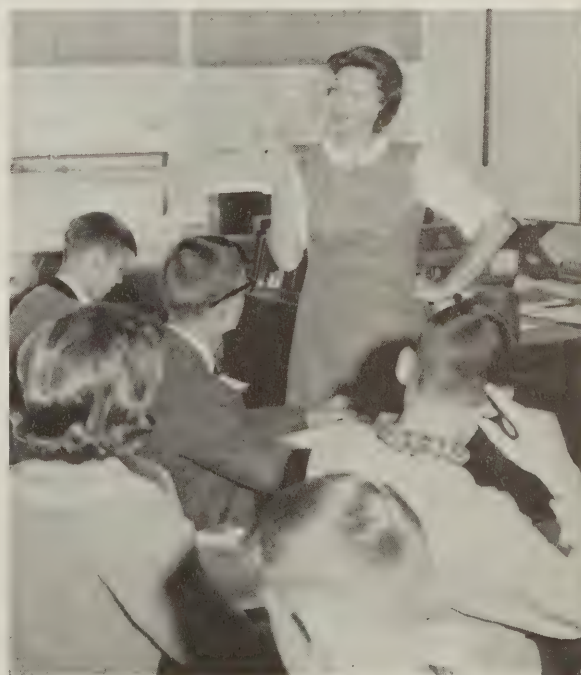

Miss Nancy Akers instructs Nancy Price, one of the students who takes both Latin and Spanish, in the art of the Spanish guitar. Only two students, Nancy and Deborah Mason, are instructed in both languages.

Latin and Spanish Learn from Each Other

Linda Mays, Lynn Andrew, Connie Lane, and Lynda Smith, fourth year Latin students, crown Mrs. Rountrey "Teacher for a Day" with a Roman helmet made by one of her pupils.

"And this is a bullfight," Miss Akers says. "In Rome they fought lions," Mrs. Rountrey interjects as both teachers admire this painting of a matador.

Miss Akers makes her point while a first year Spanish class busily take notes.

Music and Industrial Arts Provide Specialized Training

If you can toot a flute or wield a saw, the place for you is in our Music Department or in our Industrial Arts class. Students, encouraged by Mrs. McGraw and Mr. Bernhardt, are given an opportunity to expand their talents and abilities.

Mr. Bernhardt tells his pupils how to use the equipment. Then he demonstrates proper use of the table saw to one of his pupils.

In upper left hand corner, Mrs. McGraw directs the mixed chorus, and directly above, she works with the band. Both these groups present two yearly concerts, one in the spring and one at Christmas.

Miss Burnette solves a students scheduling problem by simply switching her study hall. Seeming mountains become mole-hills in this office.

Library and Guidance Offer Serenity in the Midst of a Hectic Day

During the busy course of a school day, there are a few places where a student can gain a calm and peaceful atmosphere. Two of these places are the Library and the guidance office. In the Library, under the direction of Mrs. Ramsey, a student can escape to books. If problems trouble him, whether with school or home, Miss Burnette is always willing to listen.

Miss Burnette adds new material to her bookrack, which is always filled with latest college information.

Mrs. Ramsey proudly displays the several modern novels given to the library by the Beta Club.

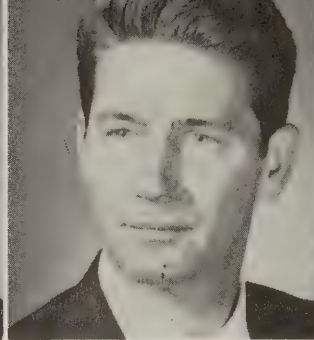

Keeping her card catalog up to date is a constant job for the librarian, Mrs. Ramsey.

These ladies: Mesdames Louise Greenway, Sally Drinkard, Inez Dodson, Doris Wildman, and Mildred Daniel prepare a nourishing meal each day, then face a long line of hungry students like the one below.

Joe Davis, our janitor, moves to pick up his next load of books.

Oops! Here's that hungry line again. It finally hit its object—of food.

Eleanor Monroe wields a trusty broom to keep our shining halls intact.

The Campbell County School Board (L-R Mr. W. R. Herridon, Falling River District, Dr. Leroy Bowen, who was replaced by Mr. Floyd Robertson, Jr., since this picture was taken, Dr. R. D. Shreve, Mr. G. Hunter Jones, Mr. Charles Jones, Rustburg, and Mr. W. B. Arthur, Seneca District. Mr. Carl Hicks, Otter River District, was not present when the picture was taken.) is called to order by Dr. R. D. Shreve who is the Altavista representative and chairman. These members meet regularly at Rustburg to handle matters concerning the County schools.

P.T.A. and County School Board Work for Improvement

Superintendent, Mr. G. Hunter Jones, pauses during a typical busy day.

The Altavista High School P.T.A. officers (L-R Mrs. E. D. Dudley, treasurer, Mrs. J. L. Hale, president, Mrs. W. R. Martin, secretary, and Mr. S. K. Smith, vice-president) have spearheaded an enthusiastic club whose activities have included initiating a fund-raising drive for new band uniforms and sponsoring the A.H.S. Literary Review.

And here we are! The mighty class known reverently as "senior." How far away our graduation seemed; as lost eighth graders; yet here we stand on the very threshold.

The year has been a profitable one. An excellent Senior Play, "Come Out of the Closet," won first place in the Homecoming parade with our "Mad Scientist" float. The beautiful fantasyland of a senior prom crowds our lesser memories, but we also recall the honors won by our own, the hours of work and talk and fun. Yes, it has been a wonderful year but it's still only a crowning touch to the exciting underclass days that went before.

May we brag for a minute and tell you about our prom, "Over the Rainbow" and the other times the floats we'd built came home with first prizes? Our Junior play "The Thread That Runs So True" had the biggest cast in school history! We took a trip to Chapel Hill and Williamsburg and . . . oh! so many things to tell. Must you leave? Ah, well. Perhaps we'll see you again. We won't look quite like this or feel the same, but you remember us just the way we are—a unit, a group, the Senior Class!

Juniors Under Able Leadership

The Junior Class has been busy this year with varied activities. In the fall they sponsored the Sadie Hawkins dance. Donnie Cox and Sandra Hutcherson were Little Abner and Daisy Mae. As November rolled around the Juniors boarded Mr. Bass's buses and rolled off to Jamestown and Williamsburg to observe Colonial Virginia. Mrs. Wallace Andrew and Mr. Ronnie Cox, American History teachers, sponsored the trip. The Junior Class float won second prize in the homecoming parade. Among the projects of the year was a talent show given in the spring. The "Juniors" topped the year off by presenting the Junior-Senior Prom.

Freshman Class Has Successful Year!

Pres.—Susan Tunkel; Vice-Pres.—Barbara Stanfield

Sec.—Sandra Hewitt; Treas.—Lee Carpenter

We have been an industrious Freshman Class this year. One of our first projects was a float in the home-coming parade. After many conferences and secret meetings in the basements of some of our members, we came up with a float carrying out the theme "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad World." We sponsored on October 10 a dance which served a double purpose. It helped us earn money, and it provided entertainment for the students. We also sold popcorn as a money-raising project. Our Freshman year has proved successful and entertaining as well as being a year of serious study.

Pre-Freshmen Enter A.H.S.

Eighth Grade Class History

To start off the year the members of the eighth grade elected Edward Frazier as their president, Malcolm Hart as their vice-pres., Frank Dalton as their treasurer, and Donna Mann as their secretary.

Our eighth grade party was held in October with "Halloween" as the theme. It was a great party, and we had a lot of fun.

The football homecoming was an exciting time for us. We entered a float entitled, "We'll Powder Devil's Nose, As Tonight's Game Goes." Although we did not place in the rating, we were proud to have been able to enter a float. We feel we have experienced a little in this, and hope it will help us in the coming years. Our Homecoming attendants were represented by Carol Tunkel and Wanda Reynolds.

We are proud to say that an eighth grader, Sandra Hutcherson, was Daisy Mae at the Sadie Hawkins Dance in November.

We hope to continue our success in the future.

This year, we, the Annual Staff, have published this book using some new techniques.

The cover which you are holding is not the usual standard cover for which we would have no say so concerning color or design. But this cover has a combination of colors which we chose, and whose design carries out our theme, "Around the World in One-Hundred Eighty Days." This theme was selected because the New York World's Fair is such a prominent feature in this year's history.

We have used color on the division pages to brighten the entire book, and have changed the type of print. If you will look in last year's yearbook, particularly under some of the larger club pictures where the people's names are listed, you will see that it takes considerable space to identify each person. But this year this space has been cut in half, and we have more room for recording our school history. The type of paper has been changed from the slick, shiny paper to the kind that doesn't reflect the light.

We have changed the seam of the book, so that the book opens flatly instead of humping in the center as in the past.

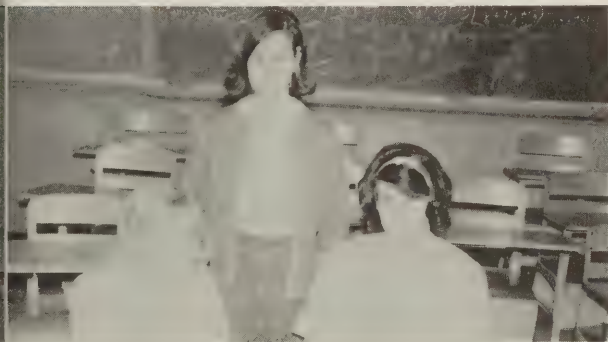

Besides these technicalities, we have sincerely attempted to tell this year's history in pictures and words.

Nuntius Presents, "Around Our World In One-Hundred-Eighty Days."

Staff Members Slave Over Layout

Photography editor Sue Knott, and photographer Chip Smith, have given half their Senior life lugging the camera to different activities, taking pictures, and "developing things in the dark room". They've truly worked hard on our yearbook. Also an occasional helper has been another Senior Edward Dudley. And on behalf of the entire school, we want to thank the photographer of the Journal, Mr. Dick Rorer for giving us his time and advice and letting us use his developing equipment.

Carolyn Dalton, Lynne Watts, Pat Frazier represent the Class editors who will be overwhelmed with joy when they don't have to count pictures and get retakes for the people in their class that they now know by heart. Also, Class editors are Julia Via and Pam Creasy.

Kenneth Keesee, the Business Manager, is typing the final report of the money brought in from advertising.

Luella Barrett, Feature Editor, tries to relax "just a little" while she prepares her section for a deadline.

Deborah Mason, Judy Noel, and Dianne Lambert type the copy for every page of every section and sigh in relief when it's finally in the mail. Also in the Copy Division is James Frazier.

Lin Arthur and Brenda Hughes, the Sports Editors, are making a final check for mistakes before they send their section in.

The Vista began the year by giving a Publications Dance, in concerted effort with the other publications, in order to raise money and this proved successful.

We joined with the yearbook Staff and Colonel Staff to present an informative and entertaining assembly. We had such guest celebrities as Bennett "Swim" and Arlene "Spainas" on the What's My Line show. The Vista has been published at periodic intervals, high-lighted by interesting and humorous stories.

The Vista Magazine was also awarded last year a higher rating than it achieved the previous year. The Creative Writing Class has devoted much work to the magazine, but contributions from the English Classes were necessary and appreciated when they came.

Colonel Prospers

The "Colonel", the voice of Altavista High School, is our newspaper, with stories written, pictures taken, articles laid out, and ads solicited by AHS students. The staff works hard to publish it monthly, to cover school news, and movie reviews and sports events. Although not supported as well as it could be, the Colonel staff continues to report.

Our Honor Council, in its second year, and Honor System have continued to promote honorable conduct and honesty among our students. To help achieve high ideals and to protect the school society against dishonesty, pledge cards stating the honor system and the two-part pledge were distributed to the student body for signing. Each student was asked to keep his pledge with him at all times as a reminder of his pledge. Cards containing the two parts of the pledge were distributed and also signed by the student body to be placed in their permanent files in the office. Last year the syetem was reviewed and several changes were made which we felt would benefit the students participating in this Honor System through the years to come.

The SCA's project of the year was initiated on the first day of school. This was a "Buddy System" for the incoming AHS students. New students were given an upper classman to "guide" them through the first week of school. It is hoped that this project will become an integral part of the student body and a continuous project.

Activity tickets allowing big discounts on home basketball games, band concerts, Junior and Senior class plays, the "Colonel", the "Vista", and the SCA, and a record-breaking number was sold . . . 109!

Altavista High School was asked to supply a discussion group leader to the state SCA conference in Martinsville, April 9, 10, 11. 15 delegates were sent to SCA, Forum and 10 delegates to the District Meeting at E. C. Glass high school to exchange ideas and solve common problems.

The SCA Council sponsored the presentation of an academic letter to every student obtaining the required number of points through his studies and his extracurricular activities.

A contribution drive was sponsored by the SCA Council to raise one-hundred dollars for one band uniform. The goal was reached in two days.

Throughout the year the SCA witnessed keen school spirit in carrying out all projects and activities. It was a great satisfaction to each council member to work cooperatively toward a "smooth running" SCA!

Lynda Smith greets New London students, Mike and Danny Hall, and Howard Mason. The council sent letters to the Evington students at the end of summer, informing them of the first day procedures and welcoming them to A.H.S.

The SCA represented the student body at various civic organizations in the community, such as the Rotary Club. The program consisted of a panel discussion on the history and purpose of the Student Cooperative Association, and the panel members were received with enthusiasm. Here Lynda Smith, Beverly English, Cynda Hart, Smitty Smith, James Frazier, Jimmy Kenlaw plan the program.

Beta Club Stimulates Achievement

The Beta Club, while based on scholarship, leadership, and character, also does many worthwhile projects. This past year we donated new risers for the Music Department since the old risers used by band and chorus were becoming dangerously unstable and difficult to set up and take down. Now the chorus has its own risers. We also gave additional books by modern authors to the library to supplement the project, started last year, of giving around thirty modern novels to the library. And we held a lovely Sweetheart Dance in February. The dance was semi-formal and punch and refreshments were served without charge.

We initiated sixteen new members into the club this past year and actively participated in the State of Virginia Beta Club Convention held in Richmond on March 19 and 20 by sending twenty-two members to the discussions. We also voted on next year's state officers and had a fine experience. Programs on scholarship achievement and cultural activities were presented in each monthly meeting. We had a graduate of Davidson, Dr. John Trotti, represent the community and speak to us on his college experiences. As a club strongly bound together in spirit and ideals, we feel that the past year was a great one for us and for our school.

Beta Purchases Stage Risers

Connie Lane, project chairman, beams at Mrs. McGraw, our band and chorus director, while standing on the much needed risers for stage use in school concerts.

Luella Barrett, Vice-President, sits amid the members' collection of bottles from their annual bottle drive. Club members spent a sunny Saturday morning, knocking on doors and loading car trunks with pop bottles. We were all glad to make the effort because the revenue makes possible our other projects.

Mrs. Moorman, sponsor, and Linda Mays, club president, scan the monthly Beta magazine before distributing it to members.

The Future Teachers of America's main purpose is to help students interested in teaching careers to understand better the profession and how to prepare for a teaching career. In order to do this guest speakers where asked to speak to us concerning their experiences in teaching and at college. Our club visited nearby college campuses to give our members a glimpse of college life. To learn of the other clubs in the state we sent Deborah Mason, Carolyn Jenks, and Sandra Walters to the State Convention to get new ideas and projects. The FTA members planned a school assembly and helped teachers by substituting and doing paper work.

FTA Helps Teachers

Deborah Mason, our President, and Miss Wallace, sponsor, are busy planning FTA week. They cram the days, starting with coffee and doughnuts for the teachers, putting flowers in the rooms, baking cakes for the teachers' lounges and giving out big red apples. Publication is important too, and Deborah sees to it that the bulletin boards keeps the student body informed about club activities.

Forensics Holds Clinics

One of the Forensics projects was to help 8th grade members. Here Cyndy Hart, V.P. illustrates reading techniques to Joy McGhee and Cynthia Dellinger.

Our debate team consisting of James Frazier, Lynn Andrew, Yvonne Robbins, Mickie Crouch, is working for the District Tournament. Their topic: "Should There Be International Nuclear Control?"

During the school year 1964-1965 the Forensics Club enlarged its program to include the younger set in Altavista High School. Mrs. Andrew, the club sponsor decided to recruit interested persons from the eighth grade and to hold a separate contest for them. Carol Franklin won both the prose and poetry medal.

This was done to enable the younger members of the club to learn from Mrs. Andrew, and older club members the techniques of prose and poetry, reading and public speaking.

The officers are encouraged by the new enthusiasm which is being shown for the club. Finding boys to take part in Forensics has always been a problem, but this year the boys have cheerfully agreed to do their part. Much interest has also been shown by students for debate.

An important part of the homemaking program of the Future Homemakers of America is to provide opportunities for students to have additional experiences in planning and carrying out activities related to our better family living. Activities are emphasized in committee reports at our regular meetings and in the programs given.

"Teenage Consumers" has been our main theme this year. The interesting project idea was presented to the student body in an assembly showing the right and wrong way to spend money and giving thrift suggestions.

Other activities of our club were: the Fall and Spring Federation Meetings, a Christmas tea, and volleyball tournament. The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet and a private dance for FHA members and their escorts were thoroughly enjoyed.

Hi-Y Is Co-Host for District Conference

Here Lindsay Reavis President opens the annual district conference.

The Michael O. Carr Hi-Y held two successful candy sales. Our club was host, with the Tri-Hi-Y, to the Central District Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Conference held in November. Mr. E. H. Lane Jr. was the principal speaker at the meeting.

The Tri-Hi-Y presented the program at the school assembly held the day before Christmas holidays. The Hi-Y has taken the responsibility of having devotions over the intercom every alternate Monday. Each member had devotions at least once during the year.

During the month of February we helped with the Heart Fund Drive. We and the radio station held a program on Heart Sunday. An auction was held and members of the Hi-Y collected money. We also held a "Hullabaloo for Hearts" the following Saturday. Proceeds from this went to the Heart Fund.

In March we sent two Delegates to the Model General Assembly, held in Richmond.

Tri-Hi-Y Influences School and Community . . .

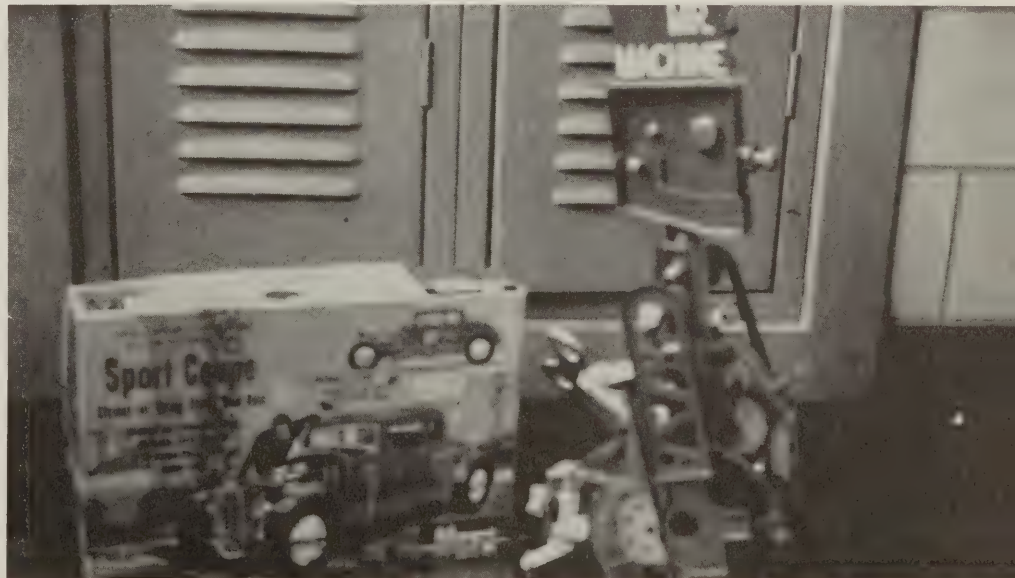

. . . by having one of the busiest years of its life. We have tried to minimize our business sessions by having more outside meetings and having speakers from the community speak to us on subjects we can apply to the execution of our ideals, at each of our monthly meetings. A few of our speakers have been Mrs. Curtis English, Mr. Hugh Reavis, and the Reverends Slatton and Trotti. School projects have been hosting the District Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y which involved a great amount of work. We have intermittently put the Thought for the Week in each room and given devotions every other Monday over the P.A. system. At Thanksgiving, and Easter we provided devotions in the cafeteria for anyone interested.

This arrangement of the club in a cross typifies our ideals and aims. L-R: P. Price, C. Lane, Mrs. Stott, sponsor, K. Tucker, J. Via, D. Eades, D. Mason, B. Jones, J. Hiner, J. Dalton, M. We've also conducted our annual Toy Dance and given the toys, which were the admission price, to the local firemen to be distributed to the needy. Also at Christmas we gave a large basket of food to a deserving mother and four children.

Our officers went to Apomattox one night at the beginning of the year for discussions of the responsibilities involved in their office. We sent two representatives, a Senator, Dianne Hargis, and a Representative, Dale Eades, to the Model General Assembly, held in Richmond this year. To climax the year we had our annual banquet in the private dining room of Jimmy's new restaurant where we inducted our officers.

Cecelia Barnard, President, works on a list of schools to send notices of the District Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y Meeting. The Junior Tri-Hi-Y helped carry out our duties of host to nearly thirty schools from the area in November.

Our Altavista Junior Tri-Hi-Y has had a helpful year. Members were given copies of the ritual explaining it and were asked to take part in the monthly meetings.

Our committees with the aid of Sponsor Miss Kathleen Burnett, The Rev. James Clements and the Rev. Norman Bennett, completed activities such as distributing Thanksgiving baskets, playing host jointly with the Senior Tri-Hi-Y to the District Conference in November, helping present the Toy Dance in December, participating in the Rededication Service at Lane Memorial Methodist Church in December and holding a Bake Sale in February.

Our club is dedicated to preserving high Christian standards in character and in all phases of school life. Many days have been brightened by our Tri-Hi-Y members.

Library Club Cares for Books

"Small in number but trying hard," were the characteristics of the 1964-65 Library Club, whose purpose is to serve the students and faculty of Altavista High School.

Early in the year we had an initiation service and we climaxed the Christmas season with a party. In the spring we enjoyed a cook-out at the Appalachian Lake and visited the Library at E. C. Glass High School.

Science Club Gains Popularity

The Science Club has increased in size since the beginning of the year, proving that the interest in science is greatly increasing. Our club has had many worthwhile projects. Several of our members have taken film about space and electrical engines to the children at the Piedmont School. One of the more interesting programs was that presented by the Meade Corporation, which explained the processing of paper and its products. The assembly featuring nuclear energy and its valuable uses not only gave an insight to the world of tomorrow's science. We also enjoyed seeing several of our fellow students participate in "hair-raising" experiments and radio activity demonstrations in the assembly.

Mrs. Key, science club sponsor, helps with an experiment. These demonstrations and experiments have helped the club programs to become increasingly interesting.

DECA Is Spirited Club

The Distributive Education Department of Altavista High School has progressed with great strides. This year the enrollment has almost doubled. Our first advancement came when we were privileged to be one of a number of schools in the state to start a three year program for D.E. members.

The first year in the program the students learn about the fundamentals of D.E. and the opportunities of this field. The second year the students start what we call a co-op plan. In this co-op plan the students have part-time jobs. The jobs help our D.E. students to put into practice what they have learned in class. The third year is similar to the second since the students work part time. Yet, during the year they are given more responsibility on the job and the class work is devoted to a much deeper study of the Free Enterprise System. DECA is a local, state and national club through which the D.E. students participate in all activities associated with Distributive Education. In DECA each year students are challenged to show some of their abilities through local, state, and national contests. The contests include: (1) public speaking (2) advertising (3) job interview (4) sales demonstration (5) display. This year Altavista was represented in all contests. Robert Moss won 2nd place in public speaking. Stanley Maschal won 4th place in advertising and Kenneth Keesee won 4th in Job interviewing. Cynthia Hedrick was elected to the Junior Board of Directors which will govern over all D.E. students next year. Our final honor came when our club was nominated for the most spirited club in the district.

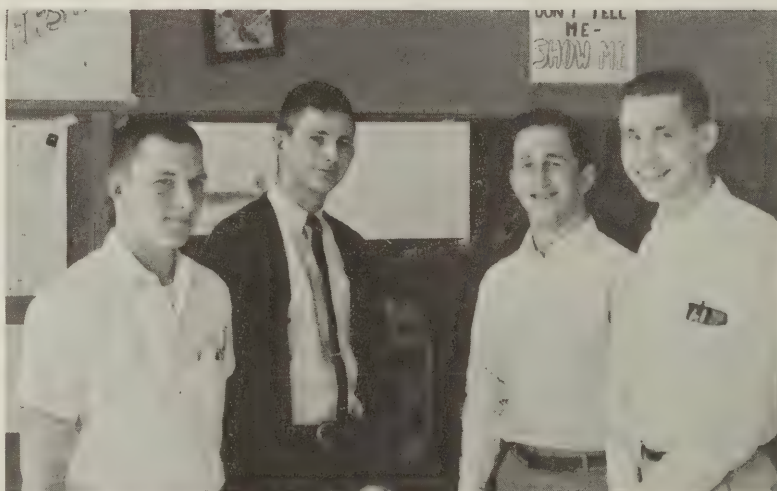

Industrial Arts Club Drafts New Constitution

Due to the more stringent membership requirements, as set forth in our constitution, which became effective this year, our membership is smaller than last year. However, the members appear to be more active and interested in progressing the work of the Industrial Arts Department.

The purpose of the Industrial Arts Club is to increase the interest in and the knowledge of industry. To this end, various field trips have been taken. These included a complete tour of the Lane Furniture Company Altavista Operations, and the new Universal Plant of Altavista.

From time to time the Industrial Arts Club contributes tools and equipment to the Industrial Arts Department. This year, the club has contributed one orbital sander, one set of socket wrenches, one magnet set and other small items.

The club has vowed continual support of the Industrial Arts Department and constantly seeks ways and methods to increase the contribution the department makes to the students' education.

Bob Walker, Bill Gillespie, Jesse Copes, and Carl West pause to take time to go over plans for their meeting.

Don Arthur, Carol Cothran, and H. C. Wheeler are Industrial Arts students

In September of this year a new club was organized in Altavista for business students. "The Future Business Leaders of America" is a state and national organization established for those interested in a career in business. A need for such a club became evident as more of our graduating students entered the community and accepted responsible business positions.

In order to become a part of this organization, our group had to draw up a local constitution and submit it to the state office with an application for a charter. Once receiving the charter we were installed in a candle light service by a team from E. C. Glass High School.

During the year our club had guest speakers, from business organizations, to speak to its members. We were also represented at the Regional Meeting at Longwood College in March and at the State Convention at Norfolk.

With the increased interest of folk music in America, especially among young people, a group of students at A. H. S. decided to form a Folk Music Club. Our sponsor, Miss Akers, helped get the club organized. We have had nearly fifty talented members in the club.

Our purpose is to create interest in different forms of folk music and to get people interested in forming small groups to display their talent. It is our hope to create interest by using groups already within the school, groups from other schools and adult groups. We believe our club will prove of interest to students in the years to come.

Chorus Has Good Attendance

This year a special group formed a madrigal group composed of volunteers from each voice section.

The group prepared songs and sang for several assemblies. At Christmas they really shined when they appeared. The girls wore long white dresses and red gloves, and the boys wore white coats and red bow ties. The singing was applauded for its superlative performance. They also executed a most commendable Spring Concert.

Girls Practice Sportsmanship

During the football season the Monogram Club, composed of girls who have won their varsity letter, furnished refreshments for the beautiful homecoming dance, EbbTide. They also sponsored a Powder Puff football game with two teams from the club. After gruelling practicing, "Creasy's Comets" beat "Frazier's Falcons."

Later in the year, the club sponsored a Basketball Homecoming dance and a student-teacher game. The men teachers won, encouraged by the peppy cheerleaders of the Women's faculty. Seven new members were added to the club, for whom the standard jackets were ordered. At the end of the year all the members attended the banquet at the Virginian.

This year we helped the Varsity Cheerleaders many times by decorating the goal posts, making posters to publicize the game, and urging students to attend. The Varsity Club made up of athletic team members and managers provided "various sundry hair-legged cheerleaders" for a Saturday afternoon "powder puff" football game. The girls had decided to take over our game so we turned out in full array to cheer. We wore everything from aprons to hair bows and did our best to do justice to school cheers. For a football pep rally we were again called upon to render our valuable services and we put on another fine performance.

For our own enjoyment we went to Charlottesville to the U. Va. and Maryland game won by Maryland 10-0.

During our regularly scheduled meetings, we get a big kick out of watching films of our games and loudly praising each others films of our games and loudly praising each others plays. We feel that 64-65 has been a good year for sports.

Spanish Club Gets Bright Room

Nancy Price, club president and third year Spanish student, clowns with a Mexican hat of traditional size:

The Spanish Club, made up of all present and past students of Spanish, has suddenly become one of the largest clubs in school. Though mainly inactive this year, the club's primary goal is to have a "Fiesta", patterned after the ones in Spain and Mexico.

Spanish students have been spurred on to further interest in the Spanish countries by a newly decorated sunny, yellow classroom with red doors. Reminding us all of the Spanish customs are two colorful pictures of toreadors and their bulls.

Young Jesse Stuart—G. Vaden, has accepted the job of becoming teacher for Lonesome Valley Rural school and soon learns the fun and hard work of this position. Here, he and his star pupil Naomi Dean—L. Andrew, finally manage to find a second alone at play's end for a budding romance.

Encore!! All smiles now that the work is done, but, it was fun! Final cast: L-R: J. Via, G. Wilson, L. Arthur, D. Mason, B. Jones, R. Cox, C. Lane, L. Mays, L. Barrett, B. Moss, R. Cox, P. Frazier, R. Gill, L. Andrew, S. Dowdy, J. Clemments, G. Vaden, J. Arthur, M. Farmer, D. Tucker, E. Thacker, H. Frazier, C. Dalton, C. Hancock, C. Smith, C. Jenks, and S. Knott Spelling Bees Advance to and Counterfeiters . . .

Poor near-sighted Officer Sweeney, C. Smith, can't make heads or tails out of this prowler scare! George Hanson—R. Cox, Hercules Jones—J. Clemments

Guthrie Rosewater, G. Vaden, recites a poem he's composed to Miss Abby Phillips, J. Via, who thinks it all "Perfectly divine"

"COME OUT OF THE CLOSET"

Three smalltown girls, Jenny Potts—P. Frazier, Hilda Hawkins—M. Farmer, and Irene Gleason—S. Knott, set out to seek their fortunes in big time New York City. Calamity sets in, however, with a mysteriously locked closet in their apartment, wailing babies and bossy landladies, night prowlers, lovers, and counterfeit money. The 3 act mystery-comedy proved to be a giant success!

Rosewater silently sneaks from the three girl's closet up to his own suite with the mysterious shoeboxes crammed with counterfeit money.

Curtain call!! R. Cox, G. Vaden, L. Arthur—Ammonia Mullins, S. Knott, P. Frazier, M. Farmer, D. Mason—Mrs. Malone, J. Via, J. Clemments, R. Gill—Mr. Cutter.

"Don't anybody move or I'll shoot! You're safe now, Guthrie." Sweet Miss Phillips comes out of her faint just in time to aid her dear Guthrie.

MUSIC!

MUSIC!!

MUSIC!!!

The '64-'65 Exels are just about the greatest thing that ever happened to A.H.S. Never tiring, which is only one wonder about them, they've played for countless school, town, and district activities. L-R: H. C. Wheeler, W. Vaughan, R. Tunkel, M. Weeks, D. Hale

Boys and guitars have become inseparable companions and a very common sight since the Folk Music Club was formed this past year. Lunchtime hootenannys always draw a large crowd. L-R: J. W. Epperson, G. Wilson, J. Kinlaw, H. Cothran, D. Hale, B. Bohannon

Gobs of posters are one thing A.H.S. never lacks! An eventful week and weekend will bring at least 25-50 posters for every possible nook and cranny of school corridor walls.

School dances of all shapes and sizes never cease! But, after all, who would ever want them to??

"Forward, march!" "Egad, my left foot hit that yardline!" "Guide right!" Under the able guidance of Mrs. Beatrice McGraw, this year the A.H.S. band donned orange and white uniforms to show off proudly their new field maneuvers.

A Little Seriousness

A.H.S. was host this fall to the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y All-District Conference. Inspiring challenges to teens were given by E. H. Lane Jr. and refreshments were one of the main highlights. Here, the Exels entertain!

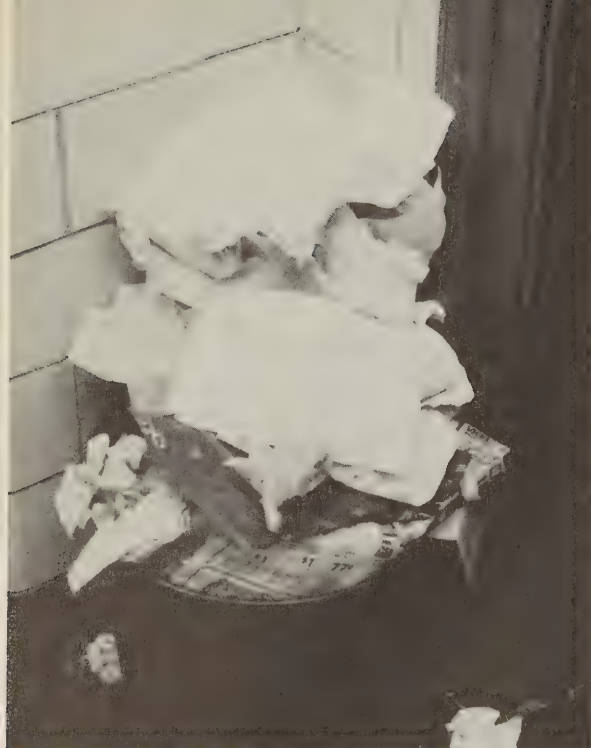

And on the Side . . .

Evidently, Dickie Singleton has his future all mapped out from the look of that grin!

Career Day at A. H. S. is an invitation for students to meet and become acquainted with representatives from many surrounding colleges and institutes. The program seeks to aid the student in determining his future career and college choice. L-R: J. Hughey, M. Owen, B. Bohannon

Cheerleaders Prepare at Summer Camp

The Varsity Football Cheerleaders began in the summer to get ready for the '64 season. Six squad members attended cheerleading camp at Virginia Beach and others, a one day clinic at Martinsville. The highlight of the year was, of course, homecoming. These girls slaved over a bonfire and torchlight procession parade, Queen's float, and beautiful homecoming dance, "Ebb Tide". The new addition to the squad, Robert Moss, Mr. Colonel, helped school spirit tremendously.

Cheerleaders Boost School Spirit

This year the A.H.S. Basketball cheerleaders were concerned mostly with promoting school spirit. A special pep rally was held during activity period, and proved to be the main force in creating school spirit. These girls have devoted much time and effort to the teams, both at practice and during the games. Also miniature basketballs were thrown out during the games to all spectators.

Cheerleaders "goof-off" at practice.

Cheerleaders throw miniature balls to anxious and impatient fans.

Colonels Faced Rough Season

2nd row: D. Hale, R. Cox, R. Dalton, B. Trogden, I. Philpott, F. Tweedy

Now do it my way . . . see!

Tri-Captains: Danny Hale, Louis Bryant, Ross Cox
